

BENEATH THE SURFACE

Luciana Fisher

"Yours is not just a book of poetry, but an experience of poetry. Genius really!" – Susan Mayer Brumel

ABOUT THE BOOK

Beneath the Surface is a poetry collection that invites readers to slow down, reflect, and reconnect with their own stories. Each poem is paired with Behind the Lines reflections and guided prompts, creating an interactive reading experience that bridges poetry and personal growth. The collection explores resilience, identity, relationships, creativity, grief, healing, hope, and what it means to remain human through life's most challenging moments.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Luciana Fisher is a Brazilian-American poet, founder of Ink, Fire & Rebellion, and Social Sciences student at New York University. A breast cancer survivor and dyslexic writer, her work creates spaces where readers feel seen, heard, and invited to reflect on their own lives.
